Candidate Information:

I am a mother, grandmother, wife and 50 plus-year career woman. I grew up in Geneva, NY, where my dad was a professor at Cornell and my mom was the high school biology teacher.

I earned a BA in psychology from Connecticut College and an MBA from University of Rhode Island. I began my career in finance, earned a CPA, and eventually became the CFO for several major companies.

My husband and I raised 3 daughters - a surgeon, a banker, and a communications expert. We first visited HHI in 1986 and became Sea Pines property owners in 2014 putting our house on STR market until 2021 when it became our primary residence. I currently am a director/advisor for NYSE companies, a member of several college/university foundations, a guest finance lecturer at the University of Rhode Island, and member of the Sea Pines CSA Finance Committee.

Why I Wish to Serve the Sea Pines Community:

One of the first things I noticed upon arriving in Sea Pines besides the breathtaking landscape was the happy, friendly nature of the community. I realize many of the folks are vacationing, and they should be happy and carefree. However, the residents are also friendly and good spirited. That is the ambiance that I want to help preserve. I also want to ensure that we are effectively managing our physical environment including infrastructure and landscape.

Serving on the CSA Finance Committee for the past 4 years has given me insight into our needs and resources. Keeping those desires in mind, I believe effective communications has become more essential these days given the challenges of social media. My background of managing, coordinating, and communicating with large teams coupled with my knowledge attained through working on the CSA Finance Committee should enable me to be an effective director for CSA.
